

COMMITTEE

COMMUNITED.

IT WAS NOT A BIG SUCCESS

The Fourth of July Committee Will Have to Meet Again on Thursday.

At the meeting yesterday evening at the opera house of the Fourth of July committee no business was transacted. Indeed, the members present were unable to effect any organization for the furtherance of the work for which the meeting was called. The unsatisfactory manner in which last year's committee acted has caused the men essential to successful performance of such work to be disgruntled and unwilling to accept the responsibility of this year's arrangements.

After James Letson had been appointed permanent chairman, with James Much for secretary, a committee on finance comprising the following citizens was formed: Robert Tate, Sid Harris, T. S. Douglass, T. C. Wright and G. J. McCabe. The committee on finance was arranged without much difficulty, but when an attempt was made to nominate a committee on arrangements, the pyrotechnics opened with a rush. Some one nominated Joe McCabe. Joe reared up and snorted. He said that last year he had been one of twenty-seven members of the committee; that only six of them met, and that three lone members carried on the work that should have devolved upon the entire twenty-seven. An attempt was made to nominate T. C. Wright, but he balked for the same reasons, as did also John Brown, Amos Kindred and James Craigbaum. Some desultory talk was then indulged in, whereupon Chairman Letson became wrathful and adjourned the meeting.

Another meeting will be held Thursday. It is to be hoped it will result in the desired organization. If the reluctant members of last night's conference were assured of good work from any and all men appointed to the different committees, it is certain that they would enlist their services to make the local celebration of the national holiday a howling success.

A Contemplated Quarry.

INDIAN OUTBREAK.

Man-Afraid-of-Water Rounded Up By a Naco Constable.

Deputy Sheriff Murphy and Al Strickland were up from Naco yesterday afternoon. They brought with them Manuel Montoya, who had absorbed a volt too many of coffin varnish. Mr. Murphy gave the REVIEW quite an interesting story anent the gyrations of a bad Injun who ran amuck in our neighbor city Sunday last. The Indian was an Apache scout who reached Naco via San Bernardino. The Naco constabulary confined the son of the desert in the civil guard house until his head had shrunk to such dimensions as would allow it to enter an ordinary wash-tub, when they shipped him to the Fort. He had succeeded in getting rid of quite a bunch of ammunition before Murphy took a half-Nelson on him.

In one line at least can Bisbee boast of a degree of excellence but rarely found, except in the largest cities, and even then confined to but one leader in a grand establishment. We refer to photography. "Poor Old Nemeck," in a large new frame of beautiful "carbons" displayed in front of the Norton House, springs a revelation on us. The dazzling variety of clean new styles, exquisite poses, and brilliant lighting and shading, indicates wonderful possibilities under the eye and touch of so skilled a master.

Notice.

All persons knowing themselves to be indebted to us or either of us, are hereby requested to settle the same with S. K. Williams, who we have appointed as our agent to receive and receipt for same for us and in our names. Proceedings by law will be commenced against all debtors failing to comply with this demand, unless such accounts are paid by June 15, 1900.

TOO HOT FOR

THE CELESTIAL.

JOHN GIN PETERS OUT.

The First Chinaman Who Remained in Bisbee Twenty-four Hours.

John Gin, a Chinese peddler well known to all Bisbee, died yesterday afternoon at the mill ranch of Richard R. Lockett three miles north of town. He visited the ranch at 1:10 p. m. and sat down at the door complaining of being hot. He asked if Lockett had seen his (Gin's) partner and was told that Jim, as the Chinaman is called, had passed the ranch early on his way to Bisbee. He complained of being sleepy and lay on a cot in the shed adjoining the house. When Lockett was about to start for Bisbee at three o'clock he heard Gin struggling and moaning and going to the shed asked him what was the trouble. Gin replied: "I am going to die." He called for his partner Jim, and continued muttering in Chinese and Mexican. Finally he was seized by a severe spasm and slipped to the floor where he died. Lockett notified Coroner S. K. Williams, who immediately impanelled a coroner's jury and visited the ranch. This forenoon the jury listened to the evidence, but in consequence of Doctor Edmundson's inability to finish analyzing the dead Chinaman's stomach before this evening the inquest was continued.

"This Clock

A PATHETIC APPEAL

From Old John Schall, Who is in St. Vincent's Hospital.

It will be of interest to many in Bisbee to learn that John Schall, who was for half a score of years a resident of this town, is in St. Vincent's hospital, Portland, Oregon. Not only is the poor fellow suffering continual agony from his now wholly useless foot, but he is destitute in his old age. In a letter to S. K. Williams he has made a request for aid from his friends and acquaintances in Bisbee, that he may be enabled to secure at the hospital such further treatment as the physicians recommend as essential to the saving of his foot. Anyone wishing to contribute to such a worthy object may leave whatever amount they can afford with Justice S. K. Williams or at the REVIEW office.
